

OUR STAGE MAY BE QUIET
THIS SUMMER...
BUT THE WORK NEVER STOPS.

GREAT SEASONS ARE BUILT IN THE SUMMER

While productions and weekly classes slow down, our expenses continue year-round.

At Brittany Leazer Productions and East Cobb Theatrical, tuition dollars don't become profit. They are immediately reinvested into students, productions, facilities, scholarships, staff, and programming that serves over 450 young people each year.

Without the steady tuition income of the school year, summer creates a critical funding gap.

OUR STORY

A CALLING THAT BECAME A COMMUNITY

Brittany Leazer Productions was born from a simple belief: Performing arts can transform lives.

After experiencing firsthand how theater helped build confidence, creativity, and purpose, Brittany Leazer set out to create a place where students could receive exceptional artistic training while also being encouraged, challenged, and genuinely known.

What began in 2017 as a small group of students rehearsing in borrowed spaces has grown into a thriving performing arts community serving hundreds of students each year through productions, classes, camps, mentorship, leadership programs, and performance opportunities.

Today, students don't simply learn to sing, dance, and act. They develop confidence, character, leadership, friendships, and a deeper understanding of who they were created to be.

As a faith-informed organization, we believe every student possesses unique gifts and tremendous value, and our mission is to help them discover both.

STUDENT VOICES

CAMRYN GUNN

BLP has helped me grow into having more comfort and confidence on the stage. I am so thankful for the community—the FAMILY—I've built here. I truly don't know where I would be if I'd never come!

GABE PILA

BLP has a warm and welcoming community that allows me to improve as a performer. The directors are passionate about helping their students grow their talents, and they are always helpful to me.

LOLA BAGWELL

From the very first audition, everyone at BLP was incredibly kind and welcoming, making my first show experience both exciting and confidence-building. Even when you make mistakes, the directors and students are nothing but supportive. 10/10, I would absolutely recommend BLP to everyone!
